As pious lentil eating organic zealots (that's us), we have to warn you that 90% of the food that you're paying for here is made from local organic ingredients, farmed and grown by people who don't want to find melting ice floes in their back garden in the next 25 years. So none of us use artificial pesticides, or fertilisers, or GM stuff. We don't keep animals in cages. We try to make sure the place is better when we finish than when we started, even if it costs a bit more and you get dirt under your fingernails. Pious, I did warn you.

We add AT OUR DISCRETION a 10% service charge on all tables of six people or more.
